Fred J. Durell Loans Picture for Exhibit

Manchester—Fred J. Durell, Newmarket, has lent to the Manchester Historic association for display in a summer exhibit two pictures by the early New Hampshire artist, Joseph H. Davis.

One, a watercolor portrait of Sarah Dockum of Lee, was painted in 1837; the other, a Dockum family register, is assumed to be of the same date. The artist, Joseph H. Davis, was an itinerant portrait painter who during the period 1832 to 1837 wandered through the towns of Strafford and Rockingham counties painting portraits of farm people of more than a century ago.

The exhibit at the Manchester Historic association will run until September 15. The museum is open free to the public every day (including Sunday) from 2 to 5 p.m. It is closed on Mondays.

Relatives of the well-known couple who have lived in Newmarket for the past 36 years are expected from Brooklyn, Philadelphia New Bedford and Lawrence.

Rhododendron Is Now in Blossom

Concord—The newly acquired Rhododendron State reservation at Fitzwilliam, location of the largest known bed of Rhododendron Maximum in this latitude, is expected to blossom by July 12 and remain in bloom for about two weeks, reaching its height about July 19, it was announced recently by the Recreation division of the State Forestry and Recreation commission.

The reservation, which includes a building some 200 years old known as Rhododendron Cottage, and 278 acres of woodlands, was acquired by the state of New Hampshire last year by gift of the Appalachian Mountain club.

Special Meeting of CDA Monday Night

There will be a special meeting of Court Fr. Hector A. Renoit, CDA, Monday night at St. Mary's school hall at 7:30.

Band Concert Friday Night

There will be a band concert Friday night at 8 o'clock. The new public address system constructed by Edward Canine and used last week for the first time will be used again.

Mrs. Louise Lenders is correcting from an operation.

Lansbury River grange met Wednesday night.

Because the petition for funds to complete the baseball field on Nichols avenue was not made before the budget committee and the regular town or school meeting in March, it looks as though Newmarket ball players will have to wait until next year for their field. The School board and the Board of Selectmen have volunteered to work together and to do all they can to further the project, but both groups state they cannot see how the money can be legally appropriated this summer.

The matter was brought before the special school meeting Tuesday night and Committeeman James B. Griffin explained that the State Board of Education has ruled against using State Aid money for this purpose. There was talk of a special Town meeting to appropriate money for the field but the Selectmen have learned that it would require a vote of 50 percent of the voters on the check list to appropriate money now.

The budget was reconsidered to take advantage of the State Aid. A total increase of $1,700 in the budget, $1,200 for teacher's salary, part required by the State Board of Education, and $500, for equipment expenses, was voted.

The State Aid is increased from $4,061.84 to $14,521.04 which means that the amount to be raised by taxation is reduced from $47,740.16 to $38,980.24.

'Foul' Ball Hits Newmarket Police Car

It was a "foul" ball that went through the police car windshield last weekend when they were driving past the ball field.

The windshield is replaced at Town expense.

"OLE MISS" SMASHES ANOTHER LEVEE . . . Roaring flood waters of the Mississippi smashed through the Chouteau island levee across from St. Louis, inundating 2,000 acres of farmland on the Illinois side of the river. Heavy rains swelled the Mississippi to an almost record crest at St. Louis as soldiers and volunteer workers labored mightily to hold the remaining levees together. River was at its highest stage since the great flood of 1844.

WARNS OF COLLAPSE . . . Predicting a "collapse of our economy" unless immediate steps are taken, Emil Rieve, chairman of the full employment committee, says rising living costs have not been checked.

OUTMODES ATOM BOMB . . . Prof. T. D. J. Leech is leading figure in development of an American-British weapon of which he says, "by comparison the atom bomb is a clumsy method of attack." He is a New Zealander.

SPOON-FED ORPHAN . . . Too young to feed itself and having no mama or papa to take care of it in a nice, comfortable nest, this little wood thrush is fed by hand from a spoon. It was deserted by its parents in Philadelphia.

TWO U. S. BATTLESHIPS RETIRED . . . A certain amount of pomp and circumstance must accompany even the decommissioning of a naval vessel. Here, Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of the Atlantic reserve fleet, is piped aboard U.S.S. North Carolina.

SOMETHING NEW AND DIFFERENT FOR SINGH . . . Since time immemorial, the peasants of India have been tilling the land by hand, disregarding modern farm implements. But here the old world catches up with the new as Gurhachan Singh, whose land in India is cultivated for the most part by human or animal labor, makes a test run on a low priced tractor in Maryland. Singh is a member of the India supply mission in Washington.

VAST LABORATORY

National Monuments Protect Scientific, Historic Features

WNU Features.

Several months ago National Park service received an urgent appeal from a small boy. "Send me some information," he wrote, "my class is studying about it." One might assume that the little boy was revealing an overconfidence in the ability of National Park service to "come across." Actually, the youngster was not too far out of line. The 171 areas that make up the national park system of the United States cut a wide swath across the total of natural and human phenomena.

Throughout the entire country there is a genuine thirst for knowledge and from 500 to 1,500 requests for information are received daily in the central office of National Park service.

National Parks Eleventh In a Series

These requests come not only from school children, but also from mature men and women. Many more thousands of people go directly to the national parks, monuments and historic sites to seek first hand for the answers to their questions. The national park system serves as a vast laboratory for the study of North American biology, geology, paleontology, history and pre-history.

The great national parks, such as Yellowstone, Glacier, Yosemite and Grand Canyon, were established primarily for the protection of magnificent scenery, but each of these parks also contains a boundless variety of natural phenomena. The national monuments, on the other hand, have been created usually to protect a single scientific or historic feature—an extinct volcano, an ancient Indian ruin or an early American fortification.

It often has been said that a national park covers a large area, while a national monument is small. This is not true. Many national monuments contain only a few acres each, but there are a number of geological exhibits in the national park system of such vast proportions that areas of considerable extent are required for their protection.

THE TWO LARGEST areas in the national park system are national monuments. These are Katmai and Glacier Bay in Alaska. Katmai national monument containing 4,215 square miles, is a volcanic region, the scene of a violent eruption in 1912 which resulted in creation of the Valley of the Ten Thousand Smokes. Glacier Bay national monument, covering 3,589 square miles of territory, embraces several huge glaciers and a bay choked with icebergs. Largest national monument in the United States proper is Death Valley, covering 2,891 square miles of desert and mountains. Here is located the lowest point in the country, 280 feet below the level of the sea.

Katmai and Glacier Bay national monuments are undeveloped and require much preparation and planning on the part of the visitor before he can explore them, but Death Valley, in California, so forbidding to the early immigrant, now can be visited in comfort and safety by the motorist. Death Valley, however, is extremely hot in the summer and the best seasons there are late fall, winter and early spring.

THE FIRST national monument was Devil's Tower in northeastern Wyoming, established by proclamation of Pres. Theodore Roosevelt in 1908. This is an 865-foot column of volcanic rock, which stands high above the surrounding country and may be seen for many miles.

Muir Woods national monument in Marin county, California, just north of the Golden Gate, is another early national monument, having been created in 1908. Here is a small but fine grove of California redwood trees nestling in a deep ravine on the slopes of Mount Tamalpais. The monument was named in honor of John Muir, the famous naturalist, who did much to arouse public sentiment for protection of the redwoods and sequoias.

AMONG THE BETTER known national monuments, primarily of scientific interest, are the Petrified Forest on U. S. Highway 66 in eastern Arizona, the White Sands in south central New Mexico, Jackson Hole in Wyoming, adjoining Grand Teton National park, and the Badlands in South Dakota east of the Black Hills. Less well known, but accessible by highway are the Joshua Tree national monument in southern California, the Organ Pipe Cactus and Saguaro national monuments in Arizona. These three areas all contain unusual exhibits of desert type flora.

Capulin mountain in New Mexico, Craters of the Moon in Idaho, the Devil's Postpile and Pinnacles in California, Sunset Crater in Arizona and Wheeler in Colorado are all national monuments illustrating various forms of volcanic action.

Capulin mountain is a particularly fine example of an extinct volcano, and the highway spirals around the mountain from the base to the rim of the crater. From the summit on a clear day one has a view extending into four states.

PERSONS INTERESTED in caverns will find the following group of national monuments of interest: Jewel Cave in South Dakota, Lehman Caves in Nevada, Oregon Caves near Crater Lake National park in Oregon and Timpanogos Cave in Utah. Shoshone Caverns national monument in Wyoming is not yet developed and is not open to the public.

Students of extinct forms of animal and plant life will profit from a visit to Dinosaur national monument in Colorado and Fossil Cycad national monument in South Dakota.

PERHAPS THE MOST interesting and unusual of all national monuments is a group in southern Utah near the Arizona border, which includes the Arches, the Natural Bridges and the Rainbow bridge national monuments. All three areas are relatively inaccessible. A road does extend fairly close to the first of the natural bridges, but from there on the traveler must proceed on foot or horseback. To reach the Rainbow bridge the visitor must make a two-day trip by horse.

With an automobile with oversized tires it is possible to penetrate the Windows section of Arches national monument, but to the Devil's Garden one must go on foot or horse. The story told in these three national monuments is one of erosion by wind and water.

Other national monuments which also tell the story of erosion are: Cedar Breaks, Zion and Capital Reef in Utah, Grand Canyon and Chiricahua in Arizona, the Black Canyon of the Gunnison and Colorado in the state of Colorado.

FURTHER INFORMATION pertaining to national monuments may be obtained by writing National Park Service, Washington 25, D. C., or Chicago 54, Ill.

His Frozen Gravity Seizes Liars' Contest by Odd Yarn

YAKIMA, WASH. — Frank W. Bennett of Wapato, Wash., won the liars' contest at the 12th annual dinner of the Yakima Valley anglers and hunters club. His story: "Dan MacDonald was telling me about a hunting trip to Canada, when it was almost too cold to survive. One bitter day he spotted a fine, 12-point deer. He shot and scored a direct hit, but the deer leaped over a cliff and disappeared. When Dan looked over the cliff he saw the deer frozen in the air half-way down. It was so darn cold the law of gravity froze, too."

FEAR IN THE KNIGHT

Rams-Manchester TTK Clash on Saturday

by Ray St. Pierre

This weekend, Newmarket baseball fans will be getting a special treat when the Rams collide with the powerful well-known T. T. K. club of Manchester Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

This is by far the finest aggregation to play in Newmarket for several years as the Manchesterites have won the first half championship in the Manchester Somerset league and are undefeated in the second half. One of their few defeats was in losing a 10-inning affair to the Lebanon Cardinals 4-3.

These same Manchester boys were at one time coached by the present Rams coach Matty Stemaka. Although the Rams will be going out of their class in facing this more experienced semi-pro outfit, Coach Stemaka expects his club to provide plenty of trouble for the visitors.

er, may be back in action and boost the Rams no end.

Although Rene Beaudet has ended his pitching days with a side ailment, the Rams' hopes are brightened by the return to the hurling staff of Eddie Dastie who has been suffering with a sore shoulder all season.

The possible lineups for Saturday are:

Newmarket Rams

Pelletier 2b, Fleming rf, Dastie p, St. Pierre ss, C. Mongeon lf, Ross c, Silver 3b, G. Mongeon cf, MacDougal 1b.

Manchester T. T. K.

Langley 2b, Wesolek ss, P. Gula cf, Dennis rf, M. Gula 3b, MacIsaac c, Bartasiewicz 1b, Platak rf, Gazdajka p.

Polish Club Comes From Behind to Win

by Ray St. Pierre

A weak Polish club nine had to come from behind to subdue the cellar-dwelling Newfields club 9 to 4.

None of the Polishers' regular moundmen appeared for the game and outfielder Johnny Dziedjic started on the mound. Although not much opposition was expected from the inexperienced Newfields team, they managed to throw a scare into the Polish club by garnishing 4 runs on one hit in the opening frame. Johnny Dziedjic walked two and hit two batsmen before he was relieved by Porky Pohopek with none out in the first.

The Polishers tied it up in the second when Grochmal walked, Sharples was called out on strikes and four successive hits by Dziedjic, Micowicz, L. Pohopek and Haley. Another was added in the third when Grochmal reached first on a fielder's choice, stole second and came around to score as Sharples, Newfields catcher, made two successive errors.

Newfields choked the bases in the 4th with none out but could not score only for lack of common baseball sense. K. Webb and Spencer walked and Merrill reached first on a fielder's choice as Spencer was safe at second on the attempted force out, Haley failing to touch second. Pearson filed to right field, the runners holding. Two infield ground balls were turned into force outs at the plate retiring the side.

The Polish clubbers definitely sewed up the game in the 5th when they jumped on Coffin for three doubles and a single to score four runs and win 9 to 4.

Pearson made some fine stops at second for Newfields and Micowicz saved the Polishers with three fine catches in right field.

Various Sandwiches
Make Good Porch,
Picnic Suppers

It's estimated that sandwiches are eaten at the rate of 30 million daily here in the United States, and it's no wonder, because they are one of the simplest, most nourishing foods to serve.

Do you like to make suppers simple on hot, sultry nights? Serve a sandwich-salad supper on the cool back porch. Do you like to whip up a picnic at a moment's notice? Then wrap together a few sandwiches, fruit and beverage to take along to beach or woods.

Simplest of all sandwiches is the slice of meat between two pieces of bread; but it tastes even better if you add some toothsome spread or accompaniment to it, such as:

1. Cover with a thin slice of cranberry jelly, especially ham or roast pork.
2. Cover with thinly sliced sweet or sour pickles or mustard.
3. Spread with horseradish mixed with mayonnaise.
4. Cover with lettuce and boiled dressing or sandwich spread.
5. Cover with chili sauce or catsup.

When you have leftover meat, chop it or put it through the meat grinder and serve in any of these ways:

1. Mix with mustard and season with chopped pimiento or green pepper.
2. Mix with equal parts of finely shredded cabbage and serve with chopped pickle or onion.
3. Season with chow-chow or pickle relish and season with enough boiled dressing or mayonnaise to mix through.
4. Mix with chopped olives, green pepper and dressing.
5. Mix with chopped hard-cooked eggs, chopped green pepper and mayonnaise.
6. Mix with chopped celery and moisten with mayonnaise.

When you plan to feed a bunch of hearty eaters and the weather is a bit on the crisp side, then serve hot sandwiches for a real treat. The barbecued type is ideal for the occasion.

Barbecued Hamburgers.
(Makes 6)

- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 pound ground beef
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
- 1/2 cup tomato catsup

Combine bread crumbs and milk. Add ground meat, salt and pepper. Form meat into patties, then brown on both sides in two tablespoons of fat.

Combine seasonings and vinegar with catsup and pour over meat. Cover and simmer slowly about 10 minutes, or until sauce is very thick. Serve hot between heated or toasted bun halves.

The above sauce also may be used for sliced, cooked beef roast or for frankfurters as barbecues.

If you want to use ham or pork

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Assorted Sandwiches
Potato Salad Cole Slaw
Sliced Tomatoes Pickles

Beverage Lemon Sherbet

for barbecued sandwiches, use the following sauce:

Barbecued Ham or Pork
Sandwiches.

- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic
- 1/2 cup tomato catsup
- 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup tomato soup
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Mix all ingredients together and simmer a few minutes. Use to baste meat while it is cooking.

When meat is tender, slice and add to sauce in pan with 1 cup sweet pickle relish, and serve sauce as a relish on the sandwiches.

If you are having a large crowd in either for a picnic or for a porch supper, plan to have several different varieties of sandwiches on a large platter, a selection of salad, fresh fruit and cookies and beverage. The sandwiches may be made in the morning and wrapped in heavy waxed paper and chilled. Here are some suggestions:

1. Beef or tongue, sliced thin and spread with mustard-horseradish on rye or pumpernickel bread.
2. Cold pork, chopped sweet pickle, salad dressing and lettuce on white bread.
3. Sardines mashed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, moistened with lemon juice and boiled dressing and Worcestershire sauce.
4. Swiss cheese, tomato slices and water-sliced beef with lettuce and mayonnaise on rye bread.
5. Chopped hard-cooked eggs mixed with chopped stuffed olives and salad dressing with lettuce on whole wheat bread.
6. Ground, cooked chicken mixed with an equal amount of chopped cooked ham, seasoned with chopped olives and mayonnaise on white bread.

For a nourishing "burger" type of sandwich, you might like these made with eggs.

De Luxe Eggburgers.
(Serves 6)

- 6 eggs
- 2 tablespoons fat for frying
- 6 round buns
- 6 slices cheese
- 1 medium-sized onion
- Salt and pepper

Split buns. Lay halves, split side up, on baking sheet, place cheese slices on them and toast in hot oven or under broiler until cheese begins to melt and other half is toasted. Meanwhile fry eggs medium firm, turning once; season. Place eggs on toasted halves. Top with onion rings. Serve hot, open or closed. Pass chili sauce, chopped pickle relish or mustard.

For beverage at porch or picnic, use 1 rounded tablespoon of all purpose grind, decaffeinated coffee to every cup of water. Make by boiler or percolator method. Freeze coffee in ice cube tray. At serving time, heat milk but don't let it boil. Fill glasses with coffee cubes and pour on hot milk. The result will be a smooth, creamy, iced beverage.

Ancient Dads 'Gave Bride
Away'; 'Best Man' There

Our present-day wedding tradition is a curious blend of new fashions, old manners, quaint survivals and superstitious beliefs. There are writers who stoutly maintain that our wedding service possesses traces of the violence employed in the primitive capture of brides. The best man represents the warrior who ran interference for his friend while the latter dragged off his bride-to-be whom he had smacked unconscious (to avoid any ugly wrangling that would mar the beginning of their new life together). Presence of the bride's father is a memorial of the sire, who, out-distanced and out-numbered, was forced to "give the bride away."

Women of ancient Rome preferred to marry in June, the month which belonged to Juno, goddess of marriage, patroness of women.

"Of course I love him madly!—but I can't see spending the rest of my life with him!"

BACK-HANDED BOASTING

Sandy MacTavish is a generous man, always giving praise where praise is due.

"Mon," he exulted one day, "but I had a fine game of golf with Torrence yesterday. He played a gr-r-rand game. His driving was wonderful. His work wif the brawsie was per-r-fect. He never missed wif his mashie, and his putting—ah, mon, you should have seen his putting! It was rear-r-fvelous! He played a gr-r-rand game."

"And how many strokes did he beat you, Sandy?" one listener inquired.

"Ah!", he replied. "I waana' beaten."

COVERING UP

Young son—Dad, why do you always sign my report card with an X instead of writing your name?

Father—I don't want your teacher to think that anyone who can read and write would have a son as dumb as you.

Only Ten?

"There are ten reasons why I could never even consider marrying Joe."

"What are they?"

"Well, the first is that he hasn't any money, and the other nine are things I want."

WILLING TO HELP

It wasn't always easy to make things understandable to the new maid.

"We're having friends in for a musical evening," her mistress was explaining, "and we'd like you to do your best."

"Well, Ma'am," replied the girl obligingly, "I ain't sung in years, but you can put me down for 'Swanee River' if you want to."

It Died of Fright

Mr. Windbag—The sandy desert stretched out on all sides of me. I raised my rifle; it went off with a crack and there ahead of me lay a dead bear.

Sweet Young Thing—How long had it been dead?

'Won't Be Lonesome'

"Robbie is such a dear! He taught me to play cards so that I'll know all about it after we're married."

"That's nice. What game has he taught you?"

"I think he calls it solitaire."

Modern World

She—What's the meaning of this? I found bits of rubber in my meat.

Butcher—I'm sorry, madam. Just another instance of how the horse is being replaced by the automobile.

Nice Colors

Jane—What kind of boy do you like?

Mama—I like guys with blue eyes and green backs.

FOLLOWING ORDERS

Two ants were racing at great speed across a cracker box.

"Why are we running so fast?" asked the first ant.

"Don't you see that it says 'Tear along this dotted line'?" replied the second ant.

Very "Disturbed"

Eight-year-old Peter had been restless during the night. As a result his cover had become completely disarranged. The next morning at breakfast he said: "Grandma, when I woke up this morning my bed was a nervous wreck."

Day Dreamer

"My wife had a funny dream last night. She dreamed she was married to a millionaire."

"Boy, you're lucky—my wife thinks that in the daytime."

JUST HARD LUCK

"Beg pardon, but aren't you one of the college boys?"

"Now—I couldn't find my suspenders this morning, my razor blades were all used up, and a bus just ran over my hat."

GETTING BACK

A school teacher had been ticketed for driving through a red light.

"I see by the report that you're a school teacher," said the judge, when she appeared in court. "Lady, your appearance here fulfills a long, long standing ambition of mine. You sit down at the table there and write 'I drove through a red light' 500 times."

Using It Up

In Washington, an attractive young government worker made a practice of coming in about five minutes late every day. Repeated warnings by her superior had no effect. Finally, in exasperation, he announced: "Miss Brown, I am tired of talking about your tardiness. I am therefore suspending you for one day without pay. When would you like to take the day?"

"Well, if it's all right with you," she replied instantly, "I'd like to use it up being late."

Ignorance Is Bliss

"I can't get along with my wife. All she does is ignore me."

"Ignore you?"

"Yes, and if there's anything I dislike, it's ignorance!"

Opportunity Seized

A TEXAN was visiting in the East where he had occasion to attend the funeral of a man who was thoroughly disliked in the community.

At the services the minister, who was new in the parish, called upon someone to say a few words about the deceased. A long and significant silence ensued.

Finally, the true son of Texas arose and said, "Well, since there is no one present who has anything to say about our departed brother, I'd like a few minutes to tell you folks all about Texas."

Try a Straw

Diner—I can't eat this soup.

Waiter—I'll call the manager.

Diner (when the manager arrived)—This soup, I can't eat it.

Manager—I regret that, sir, I'll call the chef.

Diner (when chef arrived)—I can't eat this soup.

Chef—What's wrong with it?

Diner—Nothing. I have no spoon.

An Honest Beggar

Beggar—Lady, could you give me a quarter to get where my family is?

Woman—Certainly, my good man, here's a quarter. Where is your family?

Beggar—At the movies!

Bad News

A New York attorney had to go to Carson City, Nev., to handle a very important case. It dragged somewhat, but finally the lawyer was able to telegraph his partner:
